

For when only the best corporate jackets will do

THE OUTDOORS COMPANY

Historically distributors in the corporatewear industry have been fearful of retail brands... well not anymore.

The Outdoors Company has arrangements with many premium outerwear brands like The North Face, Berghaus, Haglofs, Rab, Mountain Hardwear, Helly Hansen, Eastpak, Patagonia and Jack Wolfskin to supply these brands specifically into the corporatewear industry. The Outdoors Company works in close partnership with these brands to agree core corporate ranges and more importantly create good stock availability on a year round basis to give the continuity in supply that is needed. So distributors can have confidence.

The North Face Sangro Jacket is a classic style and makes for a perfect corporatewear waterproof jacket. Its clean lines, a smart cut, great quality and performance means it really works as a corporate jacket or branded gift. Trade prices are competitive in the corporate market, fitting well into a realistic budget for companies which need good quality jackets for winter.

Additionally the Berghaus RG Alpha Shell Jacket is another perfect corporatewear garment. Very similar to the North Face Sangro Jacket, it offers a perfect choice for a company looking for a more premium brand. The slightly heavier weight outer fabric provides the user with a real feel of quality and performance.

Both these jackets offer amazing weather protection and great breathability.

Unique style, ultimate comfort this autumn

The Anvil Adult Full Zip Hooded Sweatshirt (71600) is a comfy yet trendy option for anyone looking to add a strong fashion basic their autumn attire. Made of substantial 245gsm fabric in a super-soft 75% ring spun, cotton/25% polyester blend, this layering piece offers a level of ease that ensures comfort and style can be the perfect pair.

Rolled forward shoulders deliver a better feel and fit, giving the wearer ease of movement. The tubular construction of this sweatshirt ensures the classic fit is roomy, yet the cut prevents this piece from being boxy. The rib knit spandex cuffs and waistband aid shape retention and the twin needle topstitched neck enhances durability.

The women's companion style (71600FL) features three needle topstitching at the neck and a semi-fitted silhouette for a truly feminine piece that accentuates the figure.

An unlined hood with white drawcord combines with contrast white neck tape and a white metallic zip to add an of-the-moment vibe to both versions.

Choose from 10 matching shades in sizes S-3XL for men and LS-L2XL for women.

Oeko-Tex Standard 100 certification of all Anvil apparel assures customers that the fabric is free of any harmful substances.

Warm up your wardrobe this fall with full zip hoodies and more from Anvil.
