Customers new and old are invited to visit the team

AJS Embroidery Services is again looking forward to Printwear & Promotion LIVE!

Following last year's successful launch of a new multi-head embroidery machine from Tajima, this year brings more excitement with the launch of three new models from Tajima.

These new machine releases will show why Tajima is still the leading and most advanced embroidery machine around. With these developments and the latest software developments from AJS' software partner Pulse Microsystems such as DG15, PulseCloud and PulseID, the team will be able to show you how to be more streamline, productive and of course much more profitable.

Machines will demonstrate real time, software so please ask the team to show you how simple machine networking and production is managed when you introduce barcoding to your business.

Customers new and old are encouraged to visit and take a look at what AJS has to offer. If you don't currently use Tajima or Pulse come and see what your competitors are using and how they are benefiting from using Tajima and Pulse products with a backup service second to none from AJS.

AJS Embroidery Services is on stand B30.
